HYDE BEFORE FRENCH JUDGE

Retrial of Case Against Former Vice-President of Equitable Amounts to Nothing.

MAY NEVER HEAR OF IT AGAIN

Three Important Witnesses for Prosecution Missing, and Will Have to Be Found.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, July 3.—James H. Hyde, of New York, formerly vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, who was condemned on May 1 by default to serve a month in prison and pay a fine of $100 for injuring a man with his automobile in October, 1908, and ordering his chauffeur to speed away after the accident, appeared today in the Eleventh Chamber of the Correctional Court, where the case was retried. When the judgment was entered Mr. Hyde was on an automobile trip in the Riviera. On his return to Paris he entered opposition to the judgment and a retrial was granted.

Three Important Witnesses for Prosecution Missing, and Will Have to Be Found.

His version of the accident, as given by his chauffeur, who was also sentenced to serve a month in jail and to pay a fine of $30. The case was called after a dozen Apache thieves and similar miscreants had been disposed of by the court. Hyde testified that the chauffeur of the auto-taxicab took the number of Mr. Hyde's automobile. Two witnesses, Labrousse and Broucher, he added, were present, and heard Mr. Hyde say to his chauffeur: "Fleez, flez."

Mr. Hyde's lawyer here pointed out that these two witnesses, who gave evidence at the first trial, had failed to present themselves to-day, while the auto-taxicab driver had disappeared without replying to the magistrate's summons.

Did Not Run Away.

Mme. Hochon, a middle-aged woman, who was in Hyde's auto at the time of the accident, testified that she had been with Hyde to a dress rehearsal at the Gynase Theatre. After the collision with the auto-taxicab, Mme. Hochon testified, Mr. Hyde, a man-servant and the chauffeur descended and examined the injuries done. "I remained in the automobile," continued the witness. "Mr. Hyde remained away fully five minutes before he returned. When he did return, he said: 'It's nothing.' Two minutes later we arrived at my house."

Mr. Hyde's man-servant then took the stand and corroborated Mme. Hochon's testimony. He also added that he did not see any one in the auto-taxicab, the chauffeur of which did nothing but insult Mr. Hyde.

Mr. Hyde was the next witness. His testimony was similar to that of the preceding witness. He added that he had time to take the auto-taxicab's number, and wrote next to day to the company in which the automobile was insured to pay the damages occasioned by the collision to the auto-taxicab. Mr. Hyde denied that he said: "Fleez, flez!" to his chauffeur.

Try to Find Him.

The procurer's representative here remarked that it was very interesting if the auto-taxicab chauffeur and the two witnesses who declare they heard Hyde say: "Fleez, flez!" could be found. The defense maintains that the last named two witnesses arrived on the scene only after Mr. Hyde had returned to his automobile. At this juncture the case was postponed, the tribunal accepting the procurer's suggestion to find the missing trio.

The police were ordered to make a thorough search for the witnesses, and when they are found and when the tribunal is again assembled, it was to-day, the case will be resumed.

The general opinion in court was that the case may never be heard of again.

BRIDE OF WEEK SLAIN; BROTHER THE ASSASSIN

Rather Than Give Her Up to Man She Had Chosen Seth Newby Kills Sister and Then Blows Out His Own Brains.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., July 3.—A dual tragedy was enacted here this afternoon, when Seth Newby killed his sister, Mrs. William Barnes, and then killed himself, at the Barnes home, on Parsonage Street.

About 1 o'clock Newby was seen going from his home to his sister's home, only a short distance away. Shortly after this two pistol shots rang out, startling the neighbors. They were quickly followed by two other reports.

Chief of Police Thomas was notified. He found the front door of the Barnes home locked, and had to force an entrance. He cautiously wended his way through the hall in the direction of a surging sound, and forced the en-

DRIVE ITALIANS OUT

Louisiana Mob Threatens Violence as Result of Recent Murder.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., July 3.—An appeal to Governor Sanders for the protection of Italian citizens of Bossier Parish was made to-day by Acting Consul Pappini at New Orleans.

This action followed the receipt of information from Bossier that all Italians had been ordered to leave the section. Feeling against the foreign residents is said to have run high as the result of the murder of Wimbark Boney, Jr., a young planter, by Italians in New Orleans.

Threats of lynching were freely expressed against Italians arrested for alleged complicity in Boney's murder. A mass meeting of citizens pledged itself to do everything possible to prevent mob action. Those in jail are John Fulco, his wife, daughter and son, and another Italian named Piarro. It was generally understood that Boney and the daughter of Fulco were soon to have been married. He was killed in Fulco's store.

DROPS DEAD WHITE TRYING TO PROTECT LITTLE CHILD

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] OVAHOCK, VA., July 3.—Mrs. Rebecca A. Carmine dropped dead in the front yard of her residence here this afternoon. While sitting on her porch about 6 o'clock the occupant of the adjoining property began to chastise one of his children with, as she thought, unnecessary severity. Walking to the picket fence that divided the premises, she remonstrated with him, but, failing to stop him, turned her back upon the scene, and after taking a few steps towards her house, fell and expired almost instantly. Her husband, Henry D. Carmine, met death in the same way in February, 1893, while preparing the hall of Chesapeake Lodge of Masons, of which he was iller, for a meeting soon to be opened; he fell to the floor and died before those near him realized what had happened.

Mrs. Carmine was seventy-three years old, and is survived by four children—Captain John J. Carmine and A. C. Carmine, Mrs. F. E. Crockett, Mrs. S. Randall Belmont, and Mrs. B. K. Broughton. Interment was in Mount Holy Cemetery.

Not Known in Lynchburg

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE TO G. A. R.

Principal Speaker at Unveiling of Monument to Founder of Organization.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—Declaring that, unlike the Praetorian Guard of Rome, the men who made up the Union forces during the Civil War were in favor of free institutions; that they fought for them and did not intend to sacrifice them to anything else, President Taft to-day, as the principal speaker at the unveiling of a memorial to Dr. Benjamin Franklin Stephenson, founder of the G. A. R., paid a glowing tribute to that organization. Congress having contributed to the cost of the memorial, President Taft said he was present in his official capacity. He remained throughout the entire exercises, which lasted more than an hour and a half.

Available regular forces in and about Washington and the District of Columbia militia turned out, and after the exercises were over passed in review before the President and high officials of the army and the G. A. R. Henry M. Nevine, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., made the presentation speech. The memorial, a three-sided shaft of granite, tapering toward the top, is erected at the corner of Seventh Street and Pennsylvania Avenue. On each side are life-size figures of bronze, representing fraternity, charity and loyalty, and on the west side of the shaft below one of the figures is a bust of Dr. Stephenson.

Senator William Warner, of Missouri, a member of the G. A. R., presided, and at the expiration of President Taft's speech he called on the veterans present to give three cheers. There was a lusty response from every one. The President seemed to enjoy it immensely.

PICTURES IN HER COFFIN.

Last of the Family Had Portraits Buried with Her.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Taking to the grave with her the oil portraits of her father, mother, brother, two sisters and herself, Miss Sarah E. Maurice, aged ninety-three, last surviving member of the old Maurice family, famous years ago throughout Long Island and New York City, was buried in the family plot in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Masspeth. In her lucid moments Miss Maurice expressed the desire that the relics of her family might be buried with her, and friends out the portraits from their frames and placed them in her coffin.

Miss Maurice's father, James Maurice, owned a vast estate at Masspeth, where he entertained the aristocracy of the
